

Hi everyone! During July and August, there are quite a number of major exhibitions for you to visit, some of which are closely related to creativity and intellectual property (IP) rights. This year, the Intellectual Property Department (IPD) will set up a booth at the Hong Kong Book Fair and the Hong Kong Computer & Communications Festival to promote the message of IP rights protection. Visitors may take part in booth games and win souvenir. Do join in with your families and friends. Details of the exhibitions are as follows:

Hong Kong Book Fair 2022*

Date: 20 July (Wed) to 26 July (Tue)

Venue: Hall 1, Hong Kong Convention and Exhibition Centre (IPD's Booth: 1C-E12)

For information about the opening hours and ticketing arrangements, please visit

Please pay attention to the latest announcements and arrangements regarding COVID-19 made by the Centre for Health Protection and the organisers before attending the events.*

No matter it is a book or a high-tech gadget, it encompasses the creativity and efforts of its author or developer. Please be mindful of the need to respect and protect IP rights when reading books or using high-tech gadgets. Only by doing so can we ensure a sustainable development of the creative industry.

Q&A on IP

- 1) Is it true that only original works of exceptional creativity can qualify for copyright protection?
- 2) Does the design registration of a product protect only its appearance but not the way it works?
