

2026 Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area High-Value
Intellectual Property Portfolio Competition
Online training (Hong Kong and Macao station)

According to the work plan of 2026 Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area High-Value Intellectual Property Portfolio Competition, it is planned to actively promote the competition and therefore Executive Committee of the Competition will conduct an online training in the form of live broadcast on 24 July 2026 in both Hong Kong SAR and Macao SAR with the following details:

(1) Time and delivery mode of training

Time: 24 July 2026 (Friday), 14:30-16:30

Delivery mode: online broadcast

Language: Putonghua / Cantonese (to be confirmed)

(2) Rundown of the online training

| Time                                   | Content                                           |
|----------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| Online broadcast via “Vkaijiang” (微開講) |                                                   |
| 14:00-14:30                            | Online registration                               |
| 14:30-14:35                            | Promotional videos of the competition             |
| 14:35-15:15                            | Introduction of the competition and its guideline |

|             |                                                                                   |
|-------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 15:15-16:15 | Sharing about overseas intellectual property cultivation and development strategy |
| 16:15-16:30 | Q&A session                                                                       |
| 16:30       | The end of the training                                                           |

(3) Online broadcast

QR code for online broadcast (please use WeChat for login):

